

Testwise Licensing

How does a Testwise product work?

- Every product is valid for one academic year only, starting early August, and lasting for 12 months.

How does my Testwise licence work?

- When you purchase a Testwise licence for a product, the licence is typically valid for one year only. If you wish to continue testing after the expiry date please contact Customer Services renewals team on 0845 602 1937 option 1 to renew your licence.

How a customer licence works, for example a school buying in January 2011

- Your subscriptions will be assigned to the current 2010/2011 product, however this product will end in August 2011. When this product expires, any remaining unused tests will be automatically moved onto the new 2011/2012 product, and will remain available until your 12 month licence expires in January 2012.

Things to consider when planning your testing that can affect year-on-year reports

- Testing pupils on the wrong academic product can cause invalid results for progress reports, year-on-year reports and local authority reports.
- You need to think about when you want to do the 'bulk' of your testing. If you will do the 'bulk' of your testing this academic year, you should use the current academic year's product. If you have some pupils who are absent near the end of this academic year and you need to test them on this product after the summer holidays, we can provide a brief extension of this old product on a school by school basis but strictly only until the end of September.
- If you want to do the 'bulk' of your testing during the next academic year you should use the new 2011/2012 product. If you have some pupils you wish to test before the start of this new academic year we can make the product available from the beginning of July for this purpose, but no earlier.
